

Peer Learning

Department of English

Date: 12/03/2025

The Department of English has initiated the method of Peer Learning for the students as decided by the IQAC in one of its meetings. Peer learning is an educational approach where students get the opportunities to learn from each other, in addition to the teachers and the mentors. It involves students collaborating, teaching and sharing knowledge to achieve learning goals. There are various forms of peer learning like group discussion, peer tutoring, creating study groups and peer feedback. Recognizing the importance of peer learning the department of English has provided an opportunity for the students to engage in the process of mutual learning. For this purpose the students of BA 2nd year were instructed to prepare a lecture for the students of BA 1st year. The entire session was supervised by Prof. Priyanka.

The following students have volunteered for this activity:

Sr. No.	Names	Topic
01	Ronika	Blow, Blow Thou Winter Wind
02	Rajat	Dinner for the Boss

Objectives:

- To encourage leadership and teaching skills of the tutors
- To promote active learning and student engagement
- To provide academic support to students from their fellow classmates
- To create an interactive environment for knowledge sharing.

Outcomes:

- The entire session has been very engaging as both of the tutors have covered all the key points and difficult concepts like the literary terms, structure of the poem as well as the sort story, the themes and imagery used in the works, the biographical details of the author and the poet etc.
- It fostered a sense of confidence, teamwork and mutual academic support among the students.

The session was part of the institutions' academic enrichment practices aiming to enhance the collaborative learning and strengthen the academic skills of students through peer led instruction. Such initiatives not only help the academic growth of a student but also focus on the overall personality development of the students. The department plans to organize more peer tutoring sessions in the upcoming year to maintain the spirit of cooperative learning.
