

Report on Rakhi Making, Rangoli Making and Mehendi Competition

Organised by Women Cell, GDC Nankhari

Date: 14th August 2024

Venue: College Campus

No. of Beneficiaries: 44

On 14 August 2024, the Women Cell of Government Degree College (GDC) Nankhari, under the guidance of Principal Dr. Poonam Mehta, organised a Rakhi-making, Rangoli-making, and Mehendi Competition on the college campus. The event was conducted as part of the celebrations for the upcoming festival of Rakshabandhan and Independence Day, which aims to foster a sense of cultural heritage, patriotic feelings, and traditional values among students. It also served as a platform for young girls to express their artistic talents through creative and intricate designs.

Rakhi Making Competition

The Women's Cell students actively participated in the Rakhi Making Competition, designing beautiful and innovative rakhis using readily available materials from their homes. The participants exhibited great enthusiasm and creativity, incorporating elements such as beads, wool yarns, paper, cloth, cotton, and other decorative items to craft unique rakhis. The competition provided an excellent opportunity for students to showcase their artistic skills and reinforce the festival's spirit.

Rangoli Making Competition

The students of Government Degree College, Nankhari, enthusiastically participated in a Rangoli Making Competition on Independence Day. The event was organised to celebrate the spirit of patriotism and artistic expression. Students created vibrant and meaningful rangolis showcasing national symbols, freedom fighters, and the tricolor, reflecting their deep respect for the nation's journey to independence. The colorful creations added festive charm to the campus and inspired a sense of unity and national pride among the participants and viewers alike.

Mehendi Competition

Alongside the Rakhi Making and Rangoli Competition, a Mehendi Competition was also organised. The members of the Women Cell enthusiastically applied intricate and beautiful mehendi designs on each other's hands. The event highlighted the artistic abilities of the participants as they displayed traditional and modern patterns, adding to the festive spirit. The beautifully adorned hands of the students reflected their passion for this creative art form.

Conclusion

The event concluded with a heartfelt vote of thanks from the Women Cell Coordinator, who appreciated the participants' enthusiastic involvement and dedication and expressed gratitude to those who contributed to making the event memorable. The event instilled a sense of cultural belonging among students while allowing them to explore their hidden talents engagingly and enjoyably.

The Rakhi Making, Rangoli Making and Mehendi Competition at GDC Nankhari was a grand success. It left everyone with cherished memories and a deeper connection to the essence of Indian festivals and days of national importance.
